Assignment

This assignment allows you to demonstrate your front-end coding skills when developing a responsive site. The following two pages are design comps of a single contest page, mocked-up for both desktop and mobile screens. Please create a responsive page based on these designs, and add front end validation using javascript. The working psd files for both screens have been attached along with this PDF.

Feel free to leverage a front-end framework. Currently, we use Bootstrap in our process, though you may choose any other framework (such as Foundation or Skeleton), or code it completely by hand.

The site should work in all modern browsers (Chrome, Firefox, Safari and Internet Explorer 10). Ideally, the site should degrade gracefully in IE8.

Submit a zipped file of the webpage.

In addition, please include a written explanation of your process and rationales of why you decided to use certain practices and techniques over others.
